Teddytech's Tips from A – Z

Dye-ing your fabric – dyeing mohair or mini velvet can be lots of fun and can result in stunning colours!

Carefully follow the directions on the pack (commercially produced hot and cold water dyes are available at most pharmacies). Don't forget to saturate the fabric with water before putting it in the dye-pot!

Darner needles – are great for embroidering noses, especially if the snout area is filled firmly and you need a good solid needle to penetrate the fabric & filling. Darner needles come in different sizes.

Darning ...old bears – torn fabric on old bears can be repaired by matching up the backing fabric with a suitable fabric (a fine linen is good) to support the tear, and darning it neatly with a matching coloured thread

Design – designing bears takes time, effort, creativity and perseverance! But it's very rewarding. Attend a course to learn the fine details of designing bears. NB. Never pass off other's designs as your own!

Detail – adding detail to your bear can take many forms. Trims; clothing; pen or airbrush shading of facial features, paws, footpads; embroidering of, or making and attaching fimo claws ... experiment!
